

Listening Quiz*

Answer the following as either True (T) or False (F):

1. When listening, it is important to look at the speaker and maintain eye contact.
2. One should listen intently, but interrupt if you think the speaker is in error.
3. We think faster than we speak.
4. Once the speaker is finished, it is appropriate to ask clarifying questions.
5. If the speaker has an annoying mannerism, it is OK to tune him out.
6. As the listener, your facial expressions and body language are not so important.
7. In today's busy world, it is OK to multi-task while listening.
8. We hear; therefore, we listen.
9. In order to keep up with the conversation, it is important to prepare one's response as we listen.
10. We remember 50% of what we hear.

Christy Lendman (October, 2008), RFB&D/Lavelle Fund for the Blind's EVS teacher training.

Adapted from, Are you a good listener? at www.lifescrypt.com